

Sample size calculations indicated that 144 participants were required to be 80% sure that the 95% CI excluded a difference in the change in 6MWD of more than the equivalence limit of 25 m, which was the minimal important difference (MID)